Associate Lecturer
Department of Social Policy and Social Work

Closing date: 9 July 2018
Interview date: 20 July 2018
Vacancy reference: 6792
INTRODUCTION

We are seeking an experienced social science researcher to join our expanding team at the University of York, who is delivering the academic programme for Think Ahead. Think Ahead is one of the UK’s most competitive graduate schemes, which offers remarkable graduates and career-changers a new route into mental health social work. We are enrolling the third cohort onto the MA Social Work Practice (Think Ahead) in July 2018.

Think Ahead aims to attract talented people into mental health services, strengthen training, and spread social approaches to mental health across society. The academic programme blends academic and practice learning with a strong focus on training participants in social interventions which support the recovery of people experiencing mental health problems.

Think Ahead participants attend a 6-week intensive Summer Institute at the start of the programme. They are then placed in mental health teams in local authorities or NHS mental health trusts, under the supervision of a Consultant Social Worker, for the remainder of the first year. On successful completion of this year they qualify as social workers. In their second year, participants are employed as social workers, undertake their Assessed and Supported Year in Employment and complete their Master’s degree.

This is an opportunity for a dynamic individual to join an experienced team of academic tutors for participants in the second year of the programme studying the Practice Research module. The role will include supervision of practice research projects, which will include advising on methodology, research ethics and governance; supervising data collection in NHS, local authority or voluntary sector settings; and supporting either qualitative or quantitative data analysis. The role will also include contributing to module teaching sessions. Extensive travel throughout England to provide tutorials to participants will be required.
Main purpose of the role

- To lecture, lead seminars, tutorials and other forms of postgraduate teaching
- To develop and apply innovative and appropriate teaching techniques and material which create interest, understanding and enthusiasm amongst students
- To carry out on-going curriculum review, including module content and materials and contribute to the development of teaching and learning strategies
- To undertake effectively a range of administrative responsibilities

Key responsibilities

(Role holders will be required to undertake some or all of the duties below)

Teaching and Promotion of Learning

- To support the teaching objectives of the department by delivering teaching through allocated lectures, tutorials and other forms of postgraduate teaching. Set and mark coursework and exams, providing constructive feedback to students
- To develop where appropriate revisions to existing modules or courses in terms of design, content, structure, forms of delivery, method of assessment
- To develop own teaching materials, methods and approaches, with guidance. Obtain and analyse feedback on own teaching design and delivery to facilitate this

Administrative and support responsibilities

- To provide – with mentoring - supervision to students, giving advice on study skills and helping with learning problems
- To identify the learning needs of students and define learning objectives
- To supervise student projects, field trips and, where appropriate, placements
- To undertake various administrative responsibilities as requested by the Head of Department

Involvement in scholarship and development

- To investigate innovative teaching, learning and assessment methods and techniques in the sector, and pedagogic research generally, bringing new insights to the department.
- To make presentations at conferences or exhibit work in other appropriate events

The Department of Social Policy & Social Work was established in 1966 and has grown over this period to become one of the largest in the world of its type. We currently have 71 (64 FTE) academic staff and a further 26 (19 FTE) staff in managerial, professional and administrative roles. The Department is broken into three constituent parts: the Research and Teaching Unit (RTU) that is responsible for the delivery of degree programmes in Social Policy, Social Work and Public Management; the Social Policy Research Unit (SPRU); and, the Centre for Housing Policy (CHP).

The Department has been fully supported by the University in its aspirations to maintain and develop its research excellence and global reputation, playing an important role in the University as one of nine departments in the Faculty of Social Science. The social sciences at York have a world class standing, and, as noted by the previous Chief Executive of ESRC, bring together one of the greatest concentrations of social science researchers in the UK, one of a handful of social science groupings which has secured two Queen’s Anniversary Prize Awards, one of which was awarded to the Social Policy Research Unit (SPRU) in recognition of the pioneering and high impact work it has lead since its formation in 1973. There are excellent connections between Social Policy & Social Work and other Social Science departments such as, Education, Economics, Health Sciences, Law, Management, Politics and Sociology as well as with the Sciences and Humanities.

We are a collegiate and research-intensive Department that also takes teaching and administration very seriously. We celebrated our 50th anniversary in the last academic year and the University has invested considerably in new appointments at all levels over recent years as we look to build on our reputation and expertise in key areas for the next 50 years. This reflects the shared of ambition of the University and the Department to make the University of York one of the world’s leading centres for social policy teaching and research.

Research

The Department has a strong research profile. In the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF) we were placed 3rd overall for Social Work and Social Policy and equal first for research impact, with 54% of our research activity rated as world leading. We were ranked 24th in the world for Social Policy in the 2017 QS World University Rankings. Research income generated by the Department is in excess of £2 million per annum.

Alongside the two major Research Centres (SPRU and CHP), staff working in all parts of the Department are actively engaged in research and scholarship and we have more recently established a number of thematic research centres which operate across the Department including the Centre for Research in Comparative and Global Social Policy (CRCG), the Centre for Childhood, Youth and Family Research, the Child Welfare Research Group, and the International Centre for Mental Health Social Research. As this indicates, our work addresses a wide range of themes, including: children and young people; comparative, global and international social policy; families and children; housing; health and social care; social work; social security; welfare, employment and citizenship. In addition, the Department also works closely with the University of York's Institute for Effective Education (IEE), Centre for Women’s Studies (CWS), Centre for Urban Studies (CURB) and York Environmental Sustainability Institute (YESI).

Degree Programmes

Although we are a research intensive Department we take our teaching very seriously. We are currently responsible for around 700 FTE students, of whom around half are postgraduates. We currently offer six undergraduate degrees within the Department:

- BA (Hons) Applied Social Science
- BA (Hons) Social Policy, Children & Young People
- BA (Hons) Social Policy, Crime & Criminal Justice
- BA (Hons) Social Policy
- BA (Hons) Social Work
- MSocW (Hons) Social Work

In addition, we contribute to two jointly taught programmes:

- BA (Hons) Criminology (with the Department of Sociology)
- BA (Hons) Social and Political Sciences (with the departments of Politics and Sociology)

We currently offer fourteen taught postgraduate degrees:

- MA Comparative and International Social Policy
- MA in Comparative and International Social Work
- MPA Comparative Applied Social and Public Policy, Evaluation and Research
- MA Global Crime and Justice
- MA Global Social Policy
- MA Public Policy and Management
- MPA Master of Public Administration
- MPA Master of Public Administration - International Development
- MA Social Policy
- MA Social and Public Policy
- MA Social Work
- MA Social Work Practice (Think Ahead)

- MRes Social Policy
- MRes Social Work

In addition, we contribute to the following jointly taught programmes:

MA in Social Research (delivered through the Research Centre for Social Sciences)

Research degrees:

- MPhil and PhD in Social Policy & Social Work

The delivery of our programmes is underpinned by a number of key partnerships, including the Yorkshire Urban and Rural Teaching Partnership and the White Rose Social Sciences Doctoral Training Partnership.
Founded on principles of excellence, equality and opportunity for all, the University of York opened in 1963 with just 230 students. In 2018 it is the home of more than 17,000 students across more than 30 academic departments and research centres. Since opening over fifty years ago, we have become one of the world’s leading universities and a member of the prestigious Russell Group.

We are consistently recognised as one of the leading Higher Education Institutes and are ranked 16th in the Times & Sunday Times league table (2017). The University of York has won six Times Higher Education (THE) Awards and five Queen’s Anniversary Prizes.

The University is proud of its association with Athena SWAN, holding 12 awards in support of gender equality, representation and success for all, with gold awards for Chemistry and Biology and a University-wide bronze award.

Of 154 universities that took part in the Research Excellence Framework (REF) in 2014, The University of York ranked 14th overall and 10th for the impact of our research. The University is consistently in the top ten UK research universities and attracts over £60m a year of funding from research alone.

Our vision is to make the University of York a world leader in the creation of knowledge through fundamental and applied research, the sharing of knowledge by teaching students from varied backgrounds and the application of knowledge for the health, prosperity and well-being of people and society.
Attractive workplace

Centred around the picturesque village of Heslington on the edge of the city of York, our colleges are set in an attractive landscaped campus. York enjoys a safe, friendly atmosphere with facilities including bars, shops, theatres and concert halls all within easy walking distance.

The University has undergone an unprecedented period of expansion and renewal since 2000. We have invested in twenty new buildings on the original campus and have completed the first and second phases of a £750m campus expansion. Our investment in new colleges, teaching and learning spaces, laboratories, research facilities and a new sports village mean there has never been a better time to join us.

During this period of change we’ve worked hard to retain our friendly, informal and collegiate atmosphere, which is important to our core values of inclusivity and interdisciplinarity.

We have a thriving international community and are committed to providing staff moving to York with as much support as possible through our Relocation Package and Welcome Officers.

The University is committed to promoting a diverse and inclusive community - a place where we can all be ourselves and succeed on merit. We offer a range of family friendly, inclusive employment policies, flexible working arrangements, staff engagement forums, campus facilities and services to support staff from different backgrounds.

THE CITY AND THE REGION

The City of York
Internationally acclaimed for its rich heritage and historic architecture, York's bustling streets are filled with visitors from all over the world. Within its medieval walls you will find the iconic gothic Minster, Clifford's Tower and the Shambles - just a few of the many attractions.

But York isn't just a great place to visit - it's also a great place to live and work. While nourishing a vibrant cosmopolitan atmosphere, York still maintains the friendly sense of community unique to a small city.

Visit www.visityork.org for more information on the city of York

Shopping, culture and entertainment
York boasts specialist and unique boutiques but also all the high street stores on its busy shopping streets. Alongside them you will find cinemas, theatres, an opera house, art galleries, a vast range of restaurants, live music venues and clubs. York is particularly renowned for its multitude of pubs and bars, from the modern to the medieval.

Housing and schools
Whether you choose to live close to the city, in one of the surrounding villages or further afield, you will find a wide range of housing within comfortable distance of York and the University. For families, the area has a range of excellent schools both in the state and independent sector.

Great location
York is one of Britain's best-connected cities. Halfway between London and Edinburgh on the East Coast mainline, on intercity trains you can reach London King's Cross in less than two hours and Edinburgh in two and a half hours. York is also well served by road links, and it is easily accessible from the A1, M1 and the M62.

For those travelling from overseas, Manchester Airport is two hours away and Heathrow Airport just three and a half. Flights from nearby Leeds Bradford Airport provide easy access to mainland Europe. By Eurostar from London St Pancras, Paris is just over six hours away.

Yorkshire
The Lonely Planet guide recently declared Yorkshire the third best region in the world to visit. There is something to cater to every taste, whether it be the rugged landscapes of the Moors or the Dales, the picturesque seaside towns of Scarborough and Robin Hoods Bay, the gothic architecture of Whitby or the vibrancy of cosmopolitan Leeds.
